PeaceRep
Peace and Conflict Resolution Evidence Platform

NEWS AND IMPACT / DRAFT SUMMARY

News at a glance

A concise, chronological guide to the saved PeaceRep News archive.

> Editorial draft. Story types, impact claims, image rights and credits need review before this document is shared with funders.

Saved News archive: 28 October 2026 · 172 posts · 2018–2026

Contents

2026

2025

2024

2023

2022

2021

2020

2019

2018

2026

18 stories · Short summaries

2026-10-22 / RECOGNITION

Prof Christine Bell recognised in prestigious alumni awards

Edinburgh Law School Professor Emerita Christine Bell has been recognised for outstanding global achievement in the first Cambridge Alumni Awards.

Original News post

2026-09-10 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PeaceRep research informs expert economic evidence to the ICC

PeaceRep research on predatory peace has been used to support expert economic evidence to the International Criminal Court (ICC) in The Hague in the Abd-Al-Rahman case.

Original News post

2026-08-27 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Digital transformation to end wars: foundational PeaceTech book updated for 2026

Prof Christine Bell's foundational book, PeaceTech: Digital Transformation to End Wars, has been updated to address recent changes in conflict, mediation and technology.

Original News post

2026-08-11 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

Edinburgh Law School hosts the July 2026 Women in Conflict 1325 Fellowship

Edinburgh Law School hosted the Women in Conflict 1325 Fellowship on 20 July 2026 as part of the Scottish Peace Platform.

Original News post

2026-06-04 / RECOGNITION

PeaceRep's data-driven research commended at FCDO funding portfolio launch

FCDO Chief Scientific Adviser Prof Sir John Edmunds hailed PeaceRep as an example of the value of data-driven research and evidence in tackling global challenges.

Original News post

2026-05-19 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

PeaceRep collaborator Adeng Andrew Malual Leek appointed to South Sudan ministry

PeaceRep collaborator Adeng Andrew Malual Leek has been appointed Undersecretary in South Sudan's National Ministry of Gender, Child and Social Welfare.

Original News post

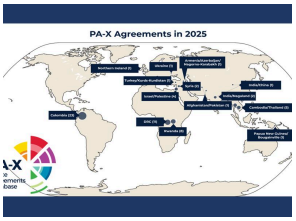

2026-05-13 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New data reports highlight the changing nature of peacemaking

PeaceRep's latest data reports highlight current trends in mediation and peacemaking practice, based on data from the PA-X Peace Agreements Database and the Mediation Event and Negotiators Database.

Original News post

2026-04-13 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

PA-X Peace Agreement Database and Dataset now updated to Version 10

PA-X Version 10 is now live and current up to the end of 2025, with 113 new agreements from peace processes in Colombia, Eastern DRC, and more.

Original News post

2026-03-23 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

House of Commons Report on Women, Peace and Security Cites PeaceRep Evidence

PeaceRep evidence on Women, Peace and Security (WPS) has informed a new House of Commons committee report by the International Development Committee.

Original News post

2026-03-18 / EVENTS HELD

Time to Make a Change: PeaceRep Hosts Closing Events

PeaceRep closing events took place in March 2026, including workshops on multimediation and monetary governance and a full-day conference at Edinburgh Law School.

Original News post

2026-03-17 / EVENTS HELD

LSE Hosts Major International Conference to Support Research Informed Policymaking

The London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) hosted a major conference on 23 February 2026, marking the end of the PeaceRep Ukraine programme.

Original News post

2026-02-27 / RECOGNITION

PeaceRep Researcher Awarded Grant to Study UN Peacekeeping Norms

Dr Monalisa Adhikari has been awarded a £358,000 ESRC grant to study how countries engage with UN peacekeeping norms, focusing on India, Nepal, and Bangladesh, which provide 27.7% of total peacekeeping troops.

Original News post

2026-02-23 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceRep Iraq Hosts Final Conference: Reframing Iraq

The PeaceRep Iraq Final Conference took place on 14 February 2026, marking the culmination of five years of research and bringing together a diverse group of researchers and practitioners to discuss key developments in Iraq and across the wider region.

Original News post

2026-02-16 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

PeaceRep Researcher Hosts Women in Conflict Fellowship

The Women in Conflict 1325 Fellowship, a programme that supports women peacebuilders, was hosted by PeaceRep Senior Research Fellow Laura Wise.

Original News post

2026-02-12 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New PeaceRep Fragmentation Research Published by British Academy and Carnegie Endowment for International Peace

New PeaceRep research is shedding light on how global fragmentation has led to new pragmatic and reductionist forms of conflict resolution.

Original News post

2026-02-10 / HIGH-LEVEL VISITS

Chief Scientific Adviser Hails PeaceRep's Data-Driven Research on Visit to Edinburgh

PeaceRep welcomed Professor Sir John Edmunds, OBE FMedSci, FCDO Chief Scientific Adviser and colleagues from the UK FCDO for a visit to Edinburgh Law School on 4 February 2026.

Original News post

2026-02-09 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Reimagining Peace Processes: PeaceRep to Highlight Research Findings and Recommendations

As PeaceRep approaches the end of programme funding in 2027, the programme will host a series of engagements on its core research findings for policy, practice and academia.

Original News post

2026-01-06 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

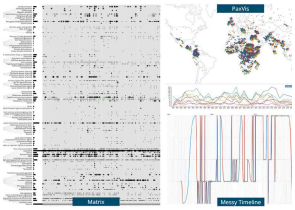

New Research Shows Fragmentation Affecting Gender Equality in Peacemaking

Findings from collaboration between PeaceRep and the Scottish Council on Global Affairs reveal impact of fragmentation on the Women, Peace and Security agenda.

Original News post

2025

23 stories · Short summaries

2025-12-11 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceRep Showcases Cutting-Edge Research at IEEE VIS 2025 in Vienna

PeaceRep showcased influential work at IEEE VIS 2025 in Vienna, with all three of its submissions accepted, including a poster, a dedicated workshop on visualising peace and conflict, and an award-recognised research paper.

Original News post

2025-12-08 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Launching the Series: Syria in Transition: Comparative Lessons and Implications for International Engagement

A year on from Assad's fall, a new PeaceRep policy series maps the challenges ahead and offers comparative lessons and recommendations to guide international support during this uncertain but pivotal phase for Syria.

Original News post

2025-12-02 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Analysis Finds Russia Likely in Recession Amid Ongoing War Costs

A new report finds that Russia's economy has likely contracted since 2022, with hidden inflation, shrinking revenues, and rising inequality placing significant strain on its economic position.

Original News post

2025-11-21 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

PeaceRep Sudan Analyst Reacts to Atrocities in El Fasher

PeaceRep researcher Dr Jan Pospisil offers an expert perspective on the roots of the ongoing conflict in Sudan.

Original News post

2025-10-29 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

UN Report Cites PA-X Data on Gender References in Peace Agreements

The UN Secretary-General's annual report on the women, peace, and security (WPS) agenda cites PA-X data on gender provisions in peace agreements, noting that the increase in provisions in 2024 was limited to a small number of processes.

Original News post

2025-10-28 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceRep Hosts Scottish Council on Global Affairs Workshop on Women, Peace and Security

In early October, a PeaceRep-hosted workshop explored what global fragmentation and the contemporary WPS crisis/es means for women's rights advocates in peace processes.

Original News post

2025-10-24 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceRep Workshop in Jordan Explores Lessons from Global Conflict Research

PeaceRep convened a two-day workshop in Amman, Jordan to reflect on key findings from the programme and their implications for future peacebuilding practice.

Original News post

2025-09-02 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

New PeaceTech Course: Data, Visualisation, and AI for Peacebuilding

PeaceRep is excited to expand its short course offering, with applications now open for a new online course on PeaceTech beginning in January 2026.

Original News post

2025-08-22 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PA-X Data on Peace Processes and Internal Displacement Cited by UN Report

PA-X data has been cited in a UN Special Rapporteur's report on the human rights of internally displaced persons, highlighting how peace processes address displacement.

Original News post

2025-08-19 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

International Development Committee Publishes PeaceRep Evidence on WPS

PeaceRep evidence on Women, Peace and Security (WPS) has been published by the International Development Committee (IDC) of the UK Parliament.

Original News post

2025-08-07 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New Survey Findings from South Sudan Reveal Changing Attitudes Towards Peace

The latest findings from the sixth wave of the Perceptions of Peace in South Sudan survey reveal significant shifts in public sentiment between 2024 and 2025.

Original News post

2025-08-05 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

Renewed Fighting Erupts in Gedo, Somalia: PeaceRep Research Sheds Light on Political Tensions Ahead of Elections

Heavy fighting has broken out in parts of Gedo, Somalia, with PeaceRep research shedding light on the dynamics of the current conflict and upcoming elections.

Original News post

2025-07-01 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PeaceRep Survey Shapes Debate on South Sudan's Fragile Peace Process

Findings from PeaceRep's perceptions of peace survey have been widely shared through media coverage and recent high-level outreach events in Juba.

Original News post

2025-06-25 / EVENTS HELD

Juline Beaujouan Speaks at Istanbul Conference on Great Power Competition and the Middle East

Beaujouan examined the implications of a shifting international order for peacemaking and human security in the Middle East.

Original News post

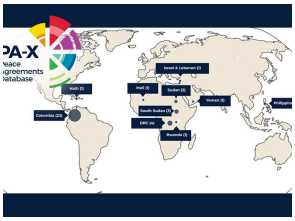

2025-06-17 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

Applications Open: PeaceRep Expands Online Short Course Offering

PeaceRep is excited to expand its short course offering, with details now available for three online courses for peacebuilding professionals.

Original News post

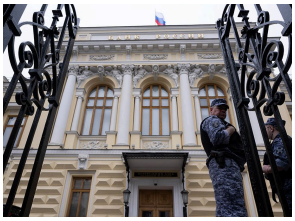

2025-05-12 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Reintroducing PA-X: Peace Agreements Database Updated to Version 9 with 89 New Agreements

PeaceRep is excited to announce the release of Version 9 of the PA-X Peace Agreements Database. Now live, PA-X V9 contains 2,144 peace agreements from 1990 to 2024.

Original News post

2025-04-22 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New PeaceRep–LSE IDEAS Report: Ukraine's Economic Strength Challenges Russia's Oil-Dependent War Effort

A new report from PeaceRep and LSE IDEAS highlights the contrasting economic foundations of Russia and Ukraine in the ongoing war, revealing significant vulnerabilities in Russia's war economy.

Original News post

2025-04-01 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

South Sudan Violence: Insights from PeaceRep research

Amidst escalating violence and political tensions in South Sudan, PeaceRep research offers deep analysis into the roots and local perceptions of the conflict.

Original News post

2025-03-25 / RECOGNITION

PeaceRep Researcher Awarded British Academy Grant for Peace Inclusivity Study

Dr Johanna Amaya-Panche has been awarded a prestigious British Academy Talent Development Award to study how international networks shape peace inclusivity in Northern Ireland.

Original News post

2025-03-10 / PARTNERSHIPS & PROCESS SUPPORT

Funding Boost to Support Women in Peacebuilding

PeaceRep experts at Edinburgh Law School are at the centre of an initiative to promote global conflict resolution and the role of women in peace processes.

Original News post

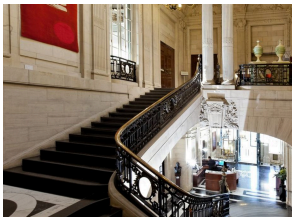

2025-03-04 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceRep Hosts Screening of Award-winning Documentary 'Devi'

PeaceRep, the Global Justice Academy and GENDER.ED were privileged to host Subina Shrestha on 27 February for a screening of award-winning film 'Devi'.

Original News post

2025-01-29 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceRep Myanmar Team Invited to Speak at British Academy

PeaceRep team members presented research on conflict fragmentation and peacemaking in Myanmar at the launch of the Global (Dis)Order policy programme.

Original News post

2025-01-22 / EVENTS HELD

Local Peacebuilding Initiatives in Iraq: Workshop Explores Community-driven Solutions for Lasting Peace

A workshop in Erbil brought together local leaders, civil society members, and peacebuilding practitioners to examine the vital role of Local Peace Committees and community-driven initiatives in Iraq's recovery.

Original News post

2024

13 stories · Short summaries

2024-12-12 / HIGH-LEVEL VISITS

Indo-Pacific Minister Praises PeaceRep's Support for Global Peace Processes on Visit to Edinburgh

Catherine West MP commended PeaceRep's research and data-driven insights as an invaluable resource for researchers and peace actors.

Original News post

2024-10-28 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

UN Report Cites PeaceRep Research on Stagnation of Gender References in Peace Agreements

The UN's annual report on the women, peace, and security agenda cites PeaceRep research to highlight the stagnation of women's participation in peace processes.

Original News post

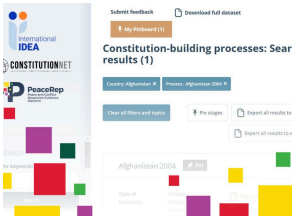

2024-09-24 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

Applications Now Open: PeaceRep Launches Two New Short Courses

PeaceRep is excited to expand its short course offering, with applications now open for two new online courses beginning in early 2025.

Original News post

2024-09-19 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Unlocking Insights into Constitution-Building in Fragile Settings

A new resource for researchers and practitioners working in challenging environments has been launched: the Database on Constitution-Building Processes in Fragile Settings.

Original News post

2024-09-11 / EVENTS HELD

Global Fragmentation in Focus: PeaceRep Hosts International Scholars at 61st CRS Conference

Last week, PeaceRep and Edinburgh Law School welcomed participants from a record-breaking 137 institutions to the 61st annual Conflict Research Society (CRS) conference.

Original News post

2024-09-09 / EVENTS HELD

Building Bridges for Collaborative Research: PeaceRep Leads Workshop in Kurdistan Region of Iraq

Last month, Juline Beaujouan led a workshop on inter-disciplinary and inter-sectoral knowledge exchange at the University of Salahaddin in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq.

Original News post

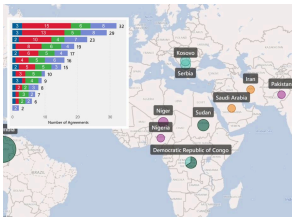

2024-07-22 / RECOGNITION

Professor Louise Mallinder, PeaceRep Steering Committee member, joins Royal Irish Academy

PeaceRep is delighted to congratulate Professor Louise Mallinder on her well-deserved appointment to the Royal Irish Academy.

Original News post

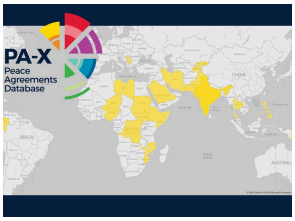

2024-07-16 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New PA-X Data Report Highlights Peace Agreement Trends and Insights in 2023

PeaceRep has released a new report on peace agreements signed in 2023, revealing insights into emerging global trends in the peace process landscape.

Original News post

2024-05-27 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

PeaceRep Releases PA-X V8 with New Agreements and Enhanced Accessibility

PeaceRep is excited to announce the release of Version 8 of the PA-X Peace Agreements Database. Now live, PA-X V8 contains 2,055 peace agreements from 1990 to January 2024.

Original News post

2024-05-13 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

Gender and Peace Processes Short Course Applications Now Open

Apply now for PeaceRep's five-week online course on gender inclusive peace processes, running from 16 September – 25 October 2024.

Original News post

2024-04-05 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Still Time to Talk: PeaceRep research features in Accord 30

Conciliation Resource's recent and highly anticipated publication of Accord 30 features PeaceRep research and thinking, including two articles by PeaceRep authors.

Original News post

2024-02-08 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

PeaceRep launches the PA-X Tracker: Peace and Transition Process Tracker

PeaceRep announces the release of the PA-X Tracker, an innovative new tool that enables users to track the implementation of peace and transition processes.

Original News post

2024-01-22 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Introducing PeaceRep's New PA-X Peace Agreement Analysts

We are excited to welcome five dynamic individuals to our team as PA-X Peace Agreement Analysts ahead of the release of PA-X Version 8.

Original News post

2023

30 stories · Short summaries

2023-12-15 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

COP28 highlights intersections between conflict and climate change

As COP28 drew to a close this week, PeaceRep shares a summary of its research that addresses the nexus between environmental issues, climate change, conflict and peace processes.

Original News post

2023-12-04 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Conflict Research Society and PeaceRep to host 2024 conference in Edinburgh

The theme of the conference is 'Global (De-)Fragmentation? Consequences for Peace and Conflict Research and Practice'.

Original News post

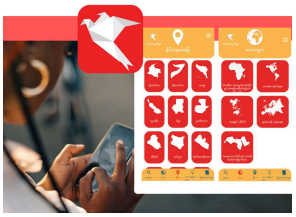

2023-11-23 / RECOGNITION

PeaceRep awarded RSE Mary Somerville Medal

PeaceRep accepted the RSE Mary Somerville Medal on 22 November 2023 for outstanding achievement in teamwork and collaboration.

Original News post

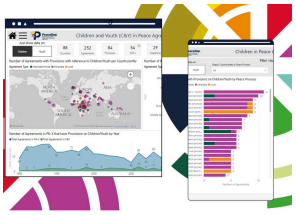

2023-11-15 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Burmese translation of PeaceFem app launched

The app is now live in five languages, including Burmese. The mobile app provides insights and strategies to support women's inclusion in peacebuilding.

Original News post

2023-11-03 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New dashboard on children and youth in peace agreements released

A comprehensive interactive dashboard offering unique insights into references to children and youth in peace agreements signed between 1990 and 2022 is now available.

Original News post

2023-10-26 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PeaceRep analysis informs UN Secretary-General report on women, peace and security

Once again, the UN's 2023 report draws on PeaceRep research to illustrate trends in women's participation and inclusion in peace processes.

Original News post

2023-10-25 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Peace Analytics Series launched with new analytical insights from PeaceFem app

A new research paper using the PeaceFem mediation app as a unique dataset offers new insights on women's inclusion in peace processes.

Original News post

2023-10-09 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Executive Director to outline plans for PeaceRep's new peace and transition process tracker at Data for Peace Conference

PeaceRep Executive Director, Christine Bell, will address audiences next week to discuss peace analytics and PeaceRep's new peace and transition process tracker.

Original News post

2023-10-03 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

PeaceRep hosts Beyond Borders Women in Conflict Fellows

Artists and peacebuilders from ten countries visited Edinburgh Law School to discuss how women can use art for meaningful inclusion in peace processes.

Original News post

2023-10-02 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

PeaceRep Launches New Short Course on Gender and Peace Processes

The new online course for peacebuilding professionals will provide an overview of the latest developments in the field of gender, peace and security.

Original News post

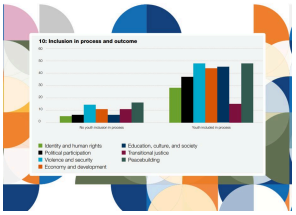

2023-09-22 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceRep Researcher Addresses OSCE Conference on Gender Equality

Laura Wise, PeaceRep Research Fellow, shared insights on women's inclusion in peace processes with policymakers and activists from the OSCE region.

Original News post

2023-09-18 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PA-X Database Informs New Research on Youth in Peace Agreements

PeaceRep's PA-X Peace Agreements Database has informed a new dataset and research on how youth feature in peace agreements.

Original News post

2023-08-24 / HIGH-LEVEL VISITS

Minister Lord Ahmad hails PeaceRep for "world-leading research" on peace and security

Lord Ahmad, the UK's Minister of State for the Middle East, North Africa, South Asia the United Nations, highlighted PeaceRep's contributions to conflict mediation practices.

Original News post

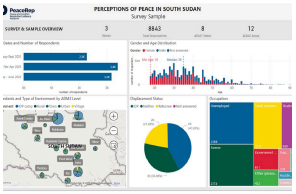

2023-07-28 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Navigating Fragmentation: New Policy Briefs and Perspectives on Syria

PeaceRep has published a new series of policy briefs and blogs on the challenges of borders and conflict lines, free movement, and humanitarian aid delivery in Syria.

Original News post

2023-06-20 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New digital tool highlights perceptions of peace in South Sudan

A new interactive data report presents insights from from a longitudinal survey, with key findings on peace and security, public authority, governance, and elections.

Original News post

2023-06-13 / RECOGNITION

PeaceRep wins Best Dataset and Best Data Visualisation at CDCS Digital Research Prizes

Team members were awarded the Best Data Visualisation prize for the Ukraine Data Tracker and the Best Dataset prize for the sixth release of PA-X Peace Agreements Database.

Original News post

2023-06-05 / HIGH-LEVEL VISITS

UK Minister welcomes PeaceRep support for peace and transition processes

PeaceRep hosted a visit from David Rutley MP, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State (Americas and Caribbean), who welcomed PeaceRep's role in supporting peace and transition processes.

Original News post

2023-06-02 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

PeaceRep expands PA-X V7 to over 2000 agreements

PeaceRep has released the seventh version of the PA-X Peace Agreements Database, expanding the data to over 2000 peace agreements from around the world.

Original News post

2023-05-23 / EVENTS HELD

Women, Peace and Security in the Digital Age: Key Take-aways from Panel Discussion

This event featured panelists sharing their insights on current challenges for women in peacemaking, and how PeaceTech innovations can contribute to inclusive peace processes.

Original News post

2023-04-26 / MEDIA ENGAGEMENTS

Jan Pospisil shares Sudan conflict insights on BBC Radio

PeaceRep researchers have shared insights in the media and in publications on the political factors that have led to the recent conflict in Sudan.

Original News post

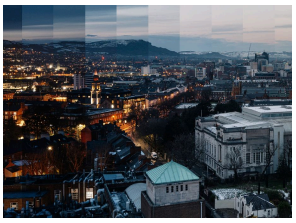

2023-04-24 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

Sudan clashes: insights from PeaceRep research and analysis

Since the fighting began, PeaceRep Sudan researchers have offered analysis and commentary on the emerging situation in the media, and through recent and forthcoming reports.

Original News post

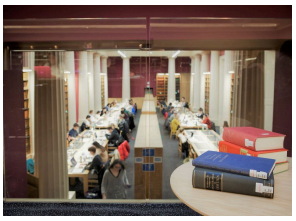

2023-04-17 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

PeaceRep researchers join global political leaders in Belfast for Agreement 25

On the 25th anniversary of the Good Friday/Belfast Agreement, PeaceRep legacy research offers reflections on key themes in the North Ireland peace process.

Original News post

2023-04-05 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

PeaceRep research informs new courses at the University of Edinburgh in Autumn 2023

New courses drawing on PeaceRep's research and data innovations will become available this year, designed for both University students and peacebuilding professionals.

Original News post

2023-04-02 / RECOGNITION

PeaceRep awarded Royal Society of Edinburgh medal for collaborative endeavour

PeaceRep has been recognised for its pivotal role in networking peace and conflict organisations, and supporting the establishment of digital peace processes.

Original News post

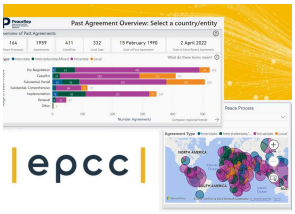

2023-03-23 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Twenty years on from the US invasion: Reflecting on drivers of conflict in Iraq

The latest research reports from PeaceRep's Iraq team highlight short-term and long-term drivers of conflict and instability, along with opportunities for consolidating democracy.

Original News post

2023-03-13 / PARTNERSHIPS & PROCESS SUPPORT

EPCC supports PeaceRep in building an online platform for peace process data analytics

Computing and data engineering services are enabling the PeaceRep team to build interactive web applications that presents and visualises peace process data.

Original News post

2023-03-10 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

Turkey-Syria Earthquakes: Insights for Recovery and Response

Future research by the PeaceRep Syria team will focus on the impact on conflict dynamics and peacemaking at international, national, and local levels.

Original News post

2023-03-08 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

International Women's Day 2023: Digital tools for inclusive peace

We celebrate the contribution of women's rights advocates working for inclusive, sustainable peace around the world, and share digital tools and resources to support this work.

Original News post

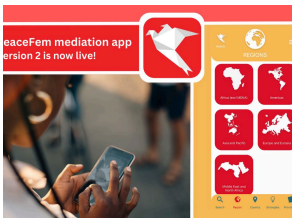

2023-03-07 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Tim Epple joins PeaceRep as Managing Director

Tim brings experience of mediation and peace process practice and research from his work in the public and private sectors and academia.

Original News post

2023-02-20 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Supporting inclusive peace through technology: PeaceFem app V2 now live

Version 2 of the app is now live in four languages, with new case studies on women's involvement and gender perspectives in peace processes.

Original News post

2022

15 stories · Short summaries

2022-11-03 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Local agreements and civicness in conflict: two new special issues

Two special issues have been published by PeaceRep researchers. Based on earlier research from the LSE Conflict and Civicness Research Group, the two special issues cover issues related to civicness and local peace agreements.

Original News post

2022-10-27 / EVENTS HELD

Informing Peacebuilding Policy with PeaceRep Research: September 2022

Research Fellow Juline Beaujouan shared findings from Iraq and Syria with academics, policymakers, and civil society actors.

Original News post

2022-10-20 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PeaceRep analysis cited in UN Secretary-General's report on women, peace and security

The UN's 2022 report draws on PeaceRep research to illustrate trends in women's participation and inclusion in peace processes.

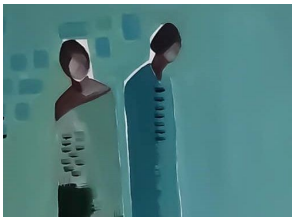

Original News post

2022-07-22 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

What's New in Version 6 of the PA-X Database?

The PA-X Peace Agreements Database now contains 1,959 peace agreements, found in more than 150 peace processes between 1990 and 2022, as well as 44 new agreements added since Version 5.

Original News post

2022-07-06 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

UN Women report cites PA-X research on local peace processes

PeaceRep welcomes a new report from UN Women on women's participation in local mediation in Iraq, Libya, Syria, and Yemen.

Original News post

2022-06-17 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Work with us: Finance and Project Officer role now open

PeaceRep seeks a senior administrator with financial experience to join the programme as Finance and Project Officer.

Original News post

2022-06-13 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Christine Bell on geopolitical dimensions of the Russia-Ukraine conflict

PeaceRep Director Christine Bell has authored a blog and a short report on geopolitical settlement in the context of Ukraine-Russia negotiations.

Original News post

2022-05-19 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Job Opportunity: Postdoc in Eastern European peace and conflict studies

Apply to work with KonKoop, a research network focusing on dynamics of conflict and cooperation in Eastern Europe.

Original News post

2022-05-17 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Addressing Gender-Based Violence in Post-Conflict Societies: PeaceRep Welcomes Research Intern

Anna Asproni introduces her research focus as she begins an internship with PeaceRep.

Original News post

2022-05-16 / RECOGNITION

PeaceRep research impact recognised by REF2021

REF2021 recognised Edinburgh Law School for the strength of its research environment, outputs, and impact – including case studies from PeaceRep.

Original News post

2022-05-13 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Publications, Data and More: Explore the New PeaceRep Site

PeaceRep's new programme website provides easy access to our cutting-edge research supporting transitions from conflict.

Original News post

2022-05-11 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New PeaceRep publication series explores global transitions

The new Global Transitions Series looks at fragmentations in the global order and how these impact peace and transition settlements.

Original News post

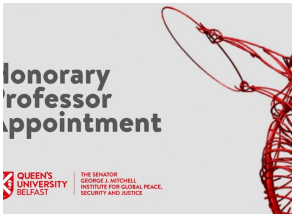

2022-03-30 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Final Update to the Ceasefires in a Time of Covid-19 Tracker

Our digital tracking tool covers two years of ceasefire negotations, examining the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic on armed conflict. The current update adds the most recent instances of ceasefires to complete the collection.

Original News post

2022-03-03 / RECOGNITION

Professor Christine Bell appointed Honorary Professor at the Mitchell Institute

PeaceRep Programme Director Professor Christine Bell has been appointed as Honorary Professor at The Mitchell Institute, Queens University Belfast.

Original News post

2022-01-14 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

PA-X Database development highlighted in 'Pathways to Peace and Security' journal

The latest issue of the Pathways to Peace and Security journal features an article by Dr Sanja Badanjak reflecting on the development of the PA-X Peace Agreements Database, along with articles that describe other relevant datasets for peace and conflict studies.

Original News post

2021

23 stories · Short summaries

2021-12-16 / EVENTS HELD

Art as a Tool of Peace Exhibition Launch

PeaceRep's new exhibition offers insights into the role of art as a tool for local peace.

Original News post

2021-12-13 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Fully Funded PhD Opportunity: At the Intersection of Sexualities and Political Settlement in Northern Ireland

Applications are open for a fully-funded PhD opportunity as part of the Beyond Opposition Project, exploring LGBTQ+ inclusions and those who are opposed to, or concerned about, these in the context of Northern Ireland.

Original News post

2021-12-10 / EVENTS HELD

Constitutions, Customary and Religious Law and Gender Equality: Third Annual Women Constitution-Makers' Dialogue

Participants addressed the balancing act between cultural and religious rights and gender equality, and considered how women constitution-makers and their allies can reconcile these rights within a constitutional framework.

Original News post

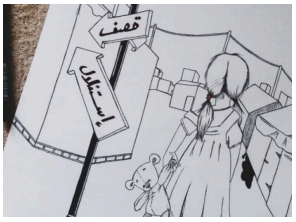

2021-11-29 / RECOGNITION

PSRP gender research awarded prestigious book prize

Prof Catherine O'Rourke won the Irish Association of Law Teachers (IALT) Kevin Boyle Prize for Outstanding Legal Scholarship for her book Women's Rights in Armed Conflict under International Law (Cambridge 2020).

Original News post

2021-11-17 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Art as a Tool for Peace: Young artists from Syria and Yemen illustrate the transformative power of art

A powerful new exhibition brings together a series of works by young artists from across Syria and Yemen, offering a glimpse into some of the world's most protracted conflicts.

Original News post

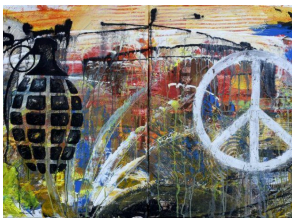

2021-10-28 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PSRP analysis cited in UN Secretary-General's report on women, peace and security

The Secretary-General's report on women, peace and security draws on PSRP data and analysis to illustrate trends in women's inclusion in peace processes.

Original News post

2021-09-06 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New collection highlights the significance of local peace processes

A new collection of essays published by the British Academy offers insights into the role of local peace agreements in international peacebuilding.

Original News post

2021-08-26 / MEDIA ENGAGEMENTS

'The war is starting a new chapter': Michael Semple speaks to BBC Radio 4 on the future of Afghanistan

Afghanistan expert Michael Semple spoke to BBC Radio 4 about the future of the Afghan war, potential for continuing conflict and instability, and what life might be like under the Taliban.

Original News post

2021-08-16 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Help us support scholars and peacebuilders at risk in Afghanistan

As the situation unfolds in Afghanistan, our thoughts and prayers are with all those in the country, and in particular our colleagues who have taken risks for peacebuilding and inclusion of women.

Original News post

2021-07-28 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Rethinking approaches to peacemaking in Afghanistan

The peace process in Afghanistan is at a crucial juncture. With international troops set to withdraw, peace talks resuming in Doha, and widespread reporting of Taliban territory gains, the changing circumstances have raised many questions about the way forward. A new report from the Political Settlements Research Programme reviews the current state of the peace process over the last three years and offers policy recommendations for a new direction in Afghan peacemaking.

Original News post

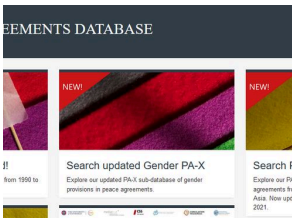

2021-06-24 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Increasing the participation of women as peace mediators is essential for achieving gender equality and inclusive peace

A new report by PSRP, Durham University, and UN Women examines ways to increase the number of women in high-level peace mediation positions.

Original News post

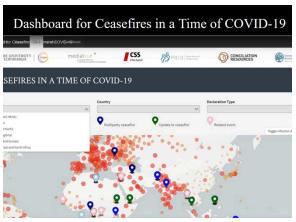

2021-06-03 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Newest release expands PA-X data to 2021

The PA-X Peace Agreements Database has been updated with new agreements covering the first half of 2021. With this release, PA-X remains the most expansive and complete online archive, database, and dataset of peace agreements.

Original News post

2021-05-31 / EVENTS HELD

Ceasefires tracker featured at GeoConvergence Workshop

The Ceasefires in a Time of Covid-19 Tracker was featured as a Lightning Talk Video at the event, as part of a collection of videos highlighting current research endeavors and calls for future innovation. In the talk, PSRP's Dr Devanjan Bhattacharya introduces the tracker and its uses, and offers insights into how the tracker dashboard was developed by the PeaceTech team at the University of Edinburgh.

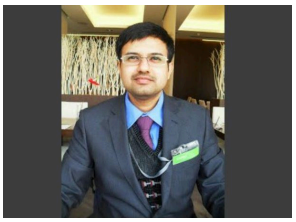

Original News post

2021-05-27 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PA-X Data featured in new analysis of ceasefire design and effectiveness

Data from the PA-X Peace Agreements Database has been featured in a new analysis of ceasefire design and effectiveness: The Logic of Ceasefires in Civil War.

Original News post

2021-04-28 / RECOGNITION

MobilitySafe: navigating cities in times of pandemic and conflict

A PSRP researcher has been awarded a new grant under the ESRC Impact Acceleration Account scheme to develop a map-based tool to help individuals navigate cities in times of pandemic and conflict.

Original News post

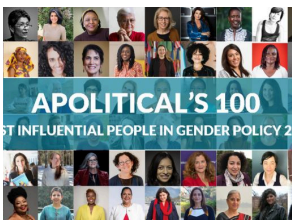

2021-04-22 / PARTNERSHIPS & PROCESS SUPPORT

Young artists illustrate life in Syrian opposition-held areas

A group of young Syrian artists have collaborated to illustrate life in opposition-held areas during the Covid-19 pandemic. The artists produced two exhibitions – combining art, music, and activities – that offer powerful insights into the daily lives of Syrian displaced and ethnic minorities, and demonstrate how art can bring people together and act as a tool for local peace.

Original News post

2021-03-31 / RECOGNITION

Prof Aisling Swaine recognised in top 100 list

PSRP Associate Professor Aisling Swaine has been named as one of the 100 Most Influential People in Gender Policy 2021 by Apolitical.

Original News post

2021-03-23 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

One year on, has conflict paused for the pandemic?

One year after the UN Secretary General called for a global ceasefire in the face of the novel cornavirus, has conflict paused for the pandemic? A new PSRP report launched today tracks ceasefires declared during Covid-19 and analyses what this means for the wider peace process landscape.

Original News post

2021-03-08 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Research boosts role of women in peace processes

A report launched to mark International Women's Day offers new guidance for women working in peace keeping processes in Iraq, Libya, Syria and Yemen.

Original News post

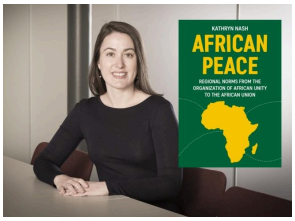

2021-02-15 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PSRP quoted in analysis of Afghan peace process

A PSRP report on political settlements has been quoted in an opinion piece on the Afghan peace process: Will political factions in Afghanistan come to terms with each other?

Original News post

2021-02-04 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Dr Kathryn Nash launches new book on African Peace

'African Peace: Regional norms from the Organization of African Unity to the African Union' examines the role of African regional organisations in constructing collective conflict management rules for the continent.

Original News post

2021-01-28 / EVENTS HELD

PSRP joins The Elders in conversation on women in mediation in the Arab world

PSRP joined The Elders for a high-level virtual event on the role of women in mediation in the Arab world.

Original News post

2021-01-24 / PARTNERSHIPS & PROCESS SUPPORT

PSRP joins the Covid Collective to study the nexus between conflict, peace, and Covid-19

The Political Settlements Research Programme (PSRP) at the University of Edinburgh has joined an exciting and interdisciplinary collective of social scientists, from inside and outside academia. The FCDO-funded Covid Collective, which is based in the International Development Studies department at the University of Sussex, will produce cutting edge social science research to address the global challenges caused by the Covid-19 pandemic.

Original News post

2020

40 stories · Short summaries

2020-12-15 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

Ceasefires tracker featured in The Lancet

Ceasefires in a Time of Covid-19, a digital tool developed to track ceasefires during the Covid-19 pandemic, has been featured in The Lancet.

Original News post

2020-12-07 / EVENTS HELD

Constitution-Building in Response to Social Crisis: the Second Women Constitution-Makers Dialogue

Participants at the second Women Constitution-Makers Dialogue discussed the relationship between social unrest and the design of constitutional reform processes, implications for democracy and peace, and opportunities to enhance and sustain women's influence as processes institutionalize.

Original News post

2020-11-26 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Webinar: Why do local peace agreements matter?

What can we learn from local peace agreements about what conflict landscapes look like, and to what extent do our conceptualisations of armed conflict work? Join us for a webinar on why local peace processes matter on Thursday 3 December 2020.

Original News post

2020-11-11 / PARTNERSHIPS & PROCESS SUPPORT

Covid Collective research platform launched to tackle global challenges caused by the pandemic

The Political Settlements Research Programme is working with the UK's Foreign Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO) and a group of world leading organisations to develop urgently needed research that will support recovery from Covid-19.

Original News post

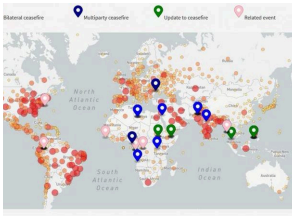

2020-11-05 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Women's Rights in Armed Conflict under International Law: book launch marks key WPS anniversary

Dr Catherine O'Rourke of the Transitional Justice Institute launched her new book, Women's Rights in Armed Conflict under International Law, in an online event marking the anniversary of a key UN Security Council Resolution on Women, Peace and Security.

Original News post

2020-11-04 / MEDIA ENGAGEMENTS

A virtual tool for effective peace process support

Ceasefires in a Time of Covid-19, a digital tool developed to track ceasefires during the Covid-19 pandemic, has been featured in the KOFF Peacebuilding Magazine's special issue on digital technologies and peacebuilding.

Original News post

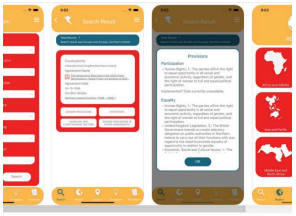

2020-11-01 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PSRP research informs OECD's States of Fragility 2020

Research from the Political Settlements Research Programme has contributed to the OECD's report on States of Fragility 2020, which examines the dramatic impact of Covid-19 on the global state of fragility and sets out a policy agenda at a critical turning point.

Original News post

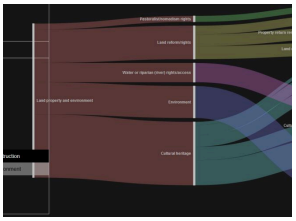

2020-10-16 / EVENTS HELD

PeaceFem: Can Technology Support Inclusive Peacemaking?

PSRP and UN Women presented the new PeaceFem mobile app at the Virtual Torino Forum for Sustaining Peace on 8 September, and led a discussion on the potential of technology to support the Women, Peace and Security and Youth, Peace and Security Agendas.

Original News post

2020-10-15 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New visualisations explore global peace agreement data

PSRP's new data visualisations offer stunning new ways to represent and explore global peace agreements, using the PA-X Peace Agreements Database.

Original News post

2020-09-30 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New book examines women's rights in conflict

A new book examines how institutions and regimes interact to protect women's rights in conflict. Written by Dr Catherine O'Rourke of the Transitional Justice Institute at the University of Ulster, the book uses case studies to reveal the implications of the fragmented protection of women's rights in conflict.

Original News post

2020-09-28 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Peace Talks from PSRP: New Webinar Series on Peace and Conflict

Join PSRP and special guests for a series of webinars on peace and conflict.

Original News post

2020-09-28 / RECOGNITION

PSRP researcher secures Edinburgh Teaching Award

The Political Settlements Research Programme is delighted to announce that PSRP postdoctoral fellow Dr Kathryn Nash has recently successfully secured the Edinburgh Teaching Award.

Original News post

2020-09-14 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

PSRP researcher awarded Chancellor's Fellowship

In her new role, Dr Sanja Badanjak will focus on bringing together insights from political science, legal studies, and data science in order to better understand the processes though which political arrangements in fragile societies may achieve stability and constancy.

Original News post

2020-09-02 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Role of amnesties in peace building explored in new database

Queen's University Belfast and the University of Edinburgh have launched the first public, open access database which explores amnesties that were granted during ongoing conflicts, or as part of peace negotiations, or in post-conflict periods.

Original News post

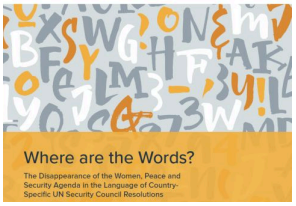

2020-08-31 / EVENTS HELD

Can PeaceTech end conflict during Covid-19?

PSRP recently joined the Edinburgh University Women in STEM Society to discuss how PeaceTech tools support those brokering peace, and the challenges and opportunities the Covid-19 pandemic presents.

Original News post

2020-07-20 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Holding the UN Security Council Accountable for WPS Agenda Commitments

A new guide examines how civil society and activists can ensure that the Women, Peace and Security (WPS) Agenda is included in UN Security Council resolutions.

Original News post

2020-07-16 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Concern over the impact of media decline in deeply divided societies

Social Change Initiative has produced a package of material drawn from the November 2019 conference which aims to respond to the crisis in the media and its impact on deeply divided societies, while also featuring media experts discussing how best to chart a way forward.

Original News post

2020-07-08 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Data reveals effect of coronavirus pandemic on war and peace around the world

The Covid-19 pandemic has not paused conflict around the world – despite calls for a global ceasefire, researchers have found. But there are positive movements that could be built on, backed by a new UN Security Council Resolution. The data comes from a new digital tracking tool jointly developed by the Political Settlements Research Programme at the University of Edinburgh.

Original News post

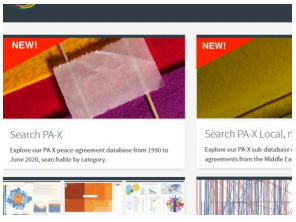

2020-07-06 / MEDIA ENGAGEMENTS

PeaceFem app featured on That's TV Scotland

The new PeaceFem mobile app on women and peacemaking has been featured on That's TV Scotland.

Original News post

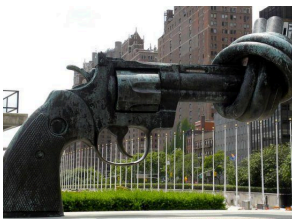

2020-07-02 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

PA-X database expanded to June 2020

We've updated the PA-X Peace Agreements Database with 36 new agreements to cover up to 1 June 2020.

Original News post

2020-07-02 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

UN Security Council calls for Covid-19 ceasefires

The UN Security Council has called for a humanitarian ceasefire in response to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Original News post

2020-06-25 / EVENTS HELD

Making inclusive peace a reality: virtual launch of the PeaceFem mobile app

Join us on 30 June for an online seminar launching the new PeaceFem app on women and peacemaking.

Original News post

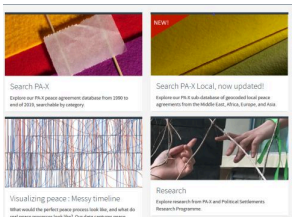

2020-06-20 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

How is Covid-19 impacting peace and conflict dynamics?

Since the Covid-19 pandemic emerged in December 2019, PSRP has been researching the impacts of the pandemic, and associated response policies, on peace and conflict dynamics around the world. We are pleased to launch two new reports on the nexus between Covid-19, peace, and conflict.

Original News post

2020-06-01 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New agreements added to PA-X Local Asia and Europe

The Political Settlements Research Programme is proud to announce the addition of 36 peace agreements from Asia and Europe to its new PA-X sub-database: PA-X Local.

Original News post

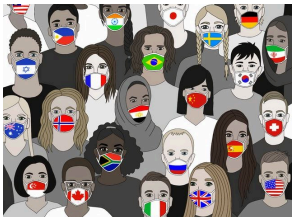

2020-05-20 / PARTNERSHIPS & PROCESS SUPPORT

Assessing the impact of Covid-19 on peace and conflict

The Political Settlements Research Programme is assessing the impact of Covid-19 on peace and conflict dynamics in a series of expert surveys of peacebuilding experts across 20 countries.

Original News post

2020-05-20 / RECOGNITION

Studying intergovernmental responses to Covid-19 in the Global South

PSRP researcher Dr Kathryn Nash has been awarded funding to study the responses of Global South regional and sub-regional organisations to the Covid-19 crisis.

Original News post

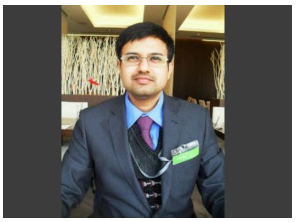

2020-05-13 / MEDIA ENGAGEMENTS

PSRP ceasefires research featured on Good Morning Scotland

PSRP Director Prof Christine Bell spoke with Laura Maxwell and Gary Robertson about the UN ceasefire call and the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic in conflict-affected regions.

Original News post

2020-05-08 / TRAINING & FELLOWSHIPS

PSRP welomes new Train@Ed Fellow

PSRP is proud to welcome Dr Devanjan Bhattacharya as the new Train@Ed Postdoctoral Fellow.

Original News post

2020-05-04 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Local peace agreements from Sub-Saharan Africa added to PA-X Local

The Political Settlements Research Programme is proud to announce the addition of 91 peace agreements from sub-Saharan Africa to its new PA-X sub-database: PA-X Local.

Original News post

2020-04-27 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Call for submissions on data visualisations and policymaking

Call for submissions for a special issue on the theme of data visualisations and policymaking.

Original News post

2020-04-27 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PSRP research quoted in UN Insider

PSRP Director Prof Christine Bell is quoted in a recent piece by UN Insider on the growing support for global ceasefires during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Original News post

2020-04-16 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

New visual tool illustrates local peace in Libya, Syria, and Yemen

Explore local peace agreements in Libya, Syria, and Yemen with our new visual map, based on agreements included in the PA-X Local Peace Agreements Database.

Original News post

2020-03-29 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Introducing the PA-X Local Peace Agreements Database

The Political Settlements Research Programme is proud to announce the launch of its new PA-X sub-database of local peace agreements: PA-X Local. PA-X Local is the first open-access database of Read More

Original News post

2020-03-26 / EVENTS HELD

Entry Points for Conflict Transformation in the MENA Region

PSRP Research Associate Juline Beaujean co-organized a workshop with the Berghof Foundation to discuss potential for conflict transformation with Salafi-Jihadi groups in the MENA region.

Original News post

2020-03-25 / OTHER PROGRAMME NEWS

Conflict, Development, and Covid-19 Resources

Read our list of blogs and other resources addressing the Covid-19 pandemic from the perspective of conflict-affected states.

Original News post

2020-03-24 / RESEARCH RESPONSES TO CURRENT EVENTS

COVID-19 and Violent Conflict

PSRP's Programme Director, Christine Bell, writes about designing the most effective responses to the COVID-19 pandemic in impoverished, conflict-affected regions.

Original News post

2020-02-28 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Peacekeeping in a New Conflict Resolution Age

Today we launch two pieces on peacekeeping, relating to political settlement and inclusion. In different ways both point to the new global marketplace of political change.

Original News post

2020-02-05 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Introducing PA-X Peace Agreements Database, Version 3

The PA-X Peace Agreements Database now covers all of 2019, with a new suite of visualisations showing the full variety of peace agreements across time, space, and issues of contention.

Original News post

2020-01-27 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

New report uses PA-X data to envision a peace agreement for Afghanistan

The RAND Corporation has published a new research report which presents a plausible final comprehensive peace agreement for Afghanistan, based in part on data from the PSRP's PA-X Peace Agreements Database.

Original News post

2020-01-08 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Founding Women dialogue: perspectives from women constitution makers (video)

International IDEA and the Political Settlements Research Programme hosted the first annual Women Constitution Makers Dialogue in Edinburgh in October 2019. In a new video, participants share their experiences of navigating gender and social transformation and discuss the importance of women's participation in constitution building.

Original News post

2019

9 stories · Short summaries

2019-12-16 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Explore global peace processes with our new interactive infographics

PSRP has launched a new series of interactive infographics about peace processes and political settlements.

Original News post

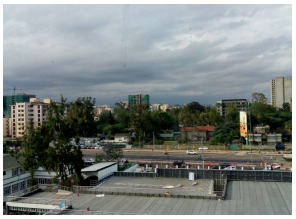

2019-12-11 / EVENTS HELD

PRSP jointly hosts two-day workshop on interim governance arrangements

On 9 and 10 December 2019, International IDEA, the Edinburgh Centre for Constitutional Law (ECCL), the Global Justice Academy (GJA), in association with the Political Settlements Research Programme (PSRP) of the University of Edinburgh, and with support from the UK Department for International Development, held the sixth Edinburgh Dialogue on Post-Conflict Constitution Building.

Original News post

2019-12-09 / EVENTS HELD

PSRP, ASPR and RVI host Local Peace Processes Workshop in Nairobi

On 25 November 2019, the Political Settlements Research Programme, the Austrian Study Center for Peace and Conflict Resolution and the Rift Valley Institute hosted a Joint Analysis Workshop on local peace processes in Nairobi, Kenya.

Original News post

2019-12-06 / PARTNERSHIPS & PROCESS SUPPORT

PSRP and Oklahoma State University collaborate on global security governance project

PSRP Research Fellow Dr Kathryn Nash and Dr Brooke Coe, Assistant Professor at Oklahoma State University, are embarking on a major project to explore the changing nature of global security governance.

Original News post

2019-11-28 / EVENTS HELD

Dr Kathryn Nash speaks about using PA-X to inform international policy-making

Dr. Kathryn Nash of the PSRP spoke about the use of PA-X Peace Agreements Database for informing international policy-making at a recent knowledge exchange event.

Original News post

2019-11-27 / EVENTS HELD

Dr Kathryn Nash represents PSRP at Knowledge Frontiers Symposium

PSRP Postdoctoral Research Fellow Dr Kathryn Nash attended the UK-Australia Knowledge Frontiers Symposium from 10-11 November 2019 in Brisbane, Australia. The Symposium brought together early career academics from the United Kingdom (UK), Australia, and the Pacific to discuss questions around the theme of the 'The Future' and the co-production of knowledge.

Original News post

2019-11-13 / EVENTS HELD

Journalism conference examines role of the media in divided societies

On November 8 and 9 2019, the Social Change Initiative in partnership with Conciliation Resources and the Political Settlements Research Programme hosted a conference on the role of the media in deeply divided societies.

Original News post

2019-10-31 / RESEARCH CITED OR USED

PSRP research informs UN report on Women, Peace and Security

Research by the Political Settlements Research Programme has informed a new report from the UN Secretary General on Women, Peace and Security.

Original News post

2019-10-28 / EVENTS HELD

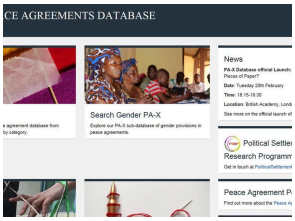

International IDEA and PSRP host historic gathering of women constitution makers

On 24 and 25 October, the first women constitution makers dialogue brought together women from around the world to share their experiences of constitution-building in a range of countries and contexts.

Original News post

2018

1 stories · Short summaries

2018-02-21 / NEW RESEARCH, DATA & TOOLS

Why PA-X Matters: Introducing the Peace Agreements Access Tool

In this short post, University of Edinburgh Law School Postdoctural Researcher, Kathryn Nash, outlines the relevance of PA-X, how it has shaped PSRP research to date, and how you can Read More

Original News post